

---

The St. Paul in Western Association.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul is again a member of the Western Passenger Association. About two years ago it withdrew from the association because three of the Chicago-St. Paul roads—the Chicago Great Western, the Wisconsin Central, and the Minneapolis and St. Louis—refused to join the association, and the Milwaukee and St. Paul claimed that its membership in the association prevented it from meeting the competition of these roads.

---

The New York Times

Published: November 3, 1900

Copyright © The New York Times