

THE PRESIDENT IN WISCONSIN.

RECEPTIONS ON THE ROAD FROM MADISON TO MILWAUKEE—AN ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME TO THE LATTER CITY.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 11.—The President and his friends spent the forenoon visiting the State University and sailing on Lake Mendota. They left by special train at 1 o'clock by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad for Milwaukee. The company, with Gen. Leduc, who went to Minnesota with the President, left for Washington yesterday.

WAUKESHA, Wis., Sept. 11.—The Presidential party left Madison by special train at 1 o'clock, and proceeded rapidly to Milton Junction, the first stop. Here, and at Old Milton, there were many people assembled to see the President. At Whitewater there was a great assemblage. The reception was cordial and enthusiastic. The President was escorted to a stand that had been hastily prepared. He was introduced by Hon. Charles C. Williams, and spoke for about 15 minutes on finance, making an argument in favor of a stable currency, and showing the danger of attempting new methods, or a departure from constitutional money. He said: "We have been through years of inflation, with the hardship incident thereto. We have reached solid, constitutional ground once more. Shall we give this all up and go back to inflation again, and again struggle through the slough of distress?" His advice was against any experiment, and against anything condemned by the experience of the financial world.

At Waukesha there was another very large and enthusiastic assemblage, numbering thousands. The President was introduced by Gov. William E. Smith. He proceeded to speak very much as at Whitewater. At each place the people called for Mrs. Hayes, and they were gratified by an introduction. The stop was for 15 minutes only, when the journey to Milwaukee was resumed. The Milwaukee Committee, consisting of Hon. J. B. Blackmeyer, Hon. Alexander Mitchell, Gen. H. C. Hobart, President of the City Council; Charles Ray, President of the Chamber of Commerce; Hon. G. W. Allan, A. B. Guilfuss, H. C. Bayne, Postmaster, Gov. W. E. Smith, Ex-Gov. Ludington, and a representation of the Milwaukee and Chicago press, who came out by a special car, joined the party at this point.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 11.—As the train pulled into the depot the President's salute was fired by a battery of artillery from the National Soldiers' Home. Notwithstanding the cool, threatening weather, an immense concourse of citizens was in waiting to greet the party. It was with difficulty that a passage could be forced from the cars to the streets, the strong police force in attendance being compelled to charge the crowd several times before they would give way. The reception was very cordial and enthusiastic, cheer after cheer being sent up as the President passed from the car to the carriage in waiting.
